

K-485—GALLUP, NEW MEXICO

often called the "Last Frontier" is on the border of the great Navajo Indian Reservation, which comprises 15,000,000 acres of land and 48,000 souls, ever increasing. Navajos are famed for their blankets and hand-made silver jewelry set with turquoise. More articles of Indian origin are marketed from Gallup than from any other city in America.

It is also distinguished as the "Indian Capital" many tribes of Indians from the four cardinal points being neighbors and visitors, especially to the Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial, which is held annually during the week closest to the 15th of August.

CURTEICHROM REPRODUCTION BY CURTEICH

POST CARD

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

8CK3140

GREETINGS FROM The INDIAN CAPITAL

GALLUP

NEW MEXICO

